Zoning and Overlays

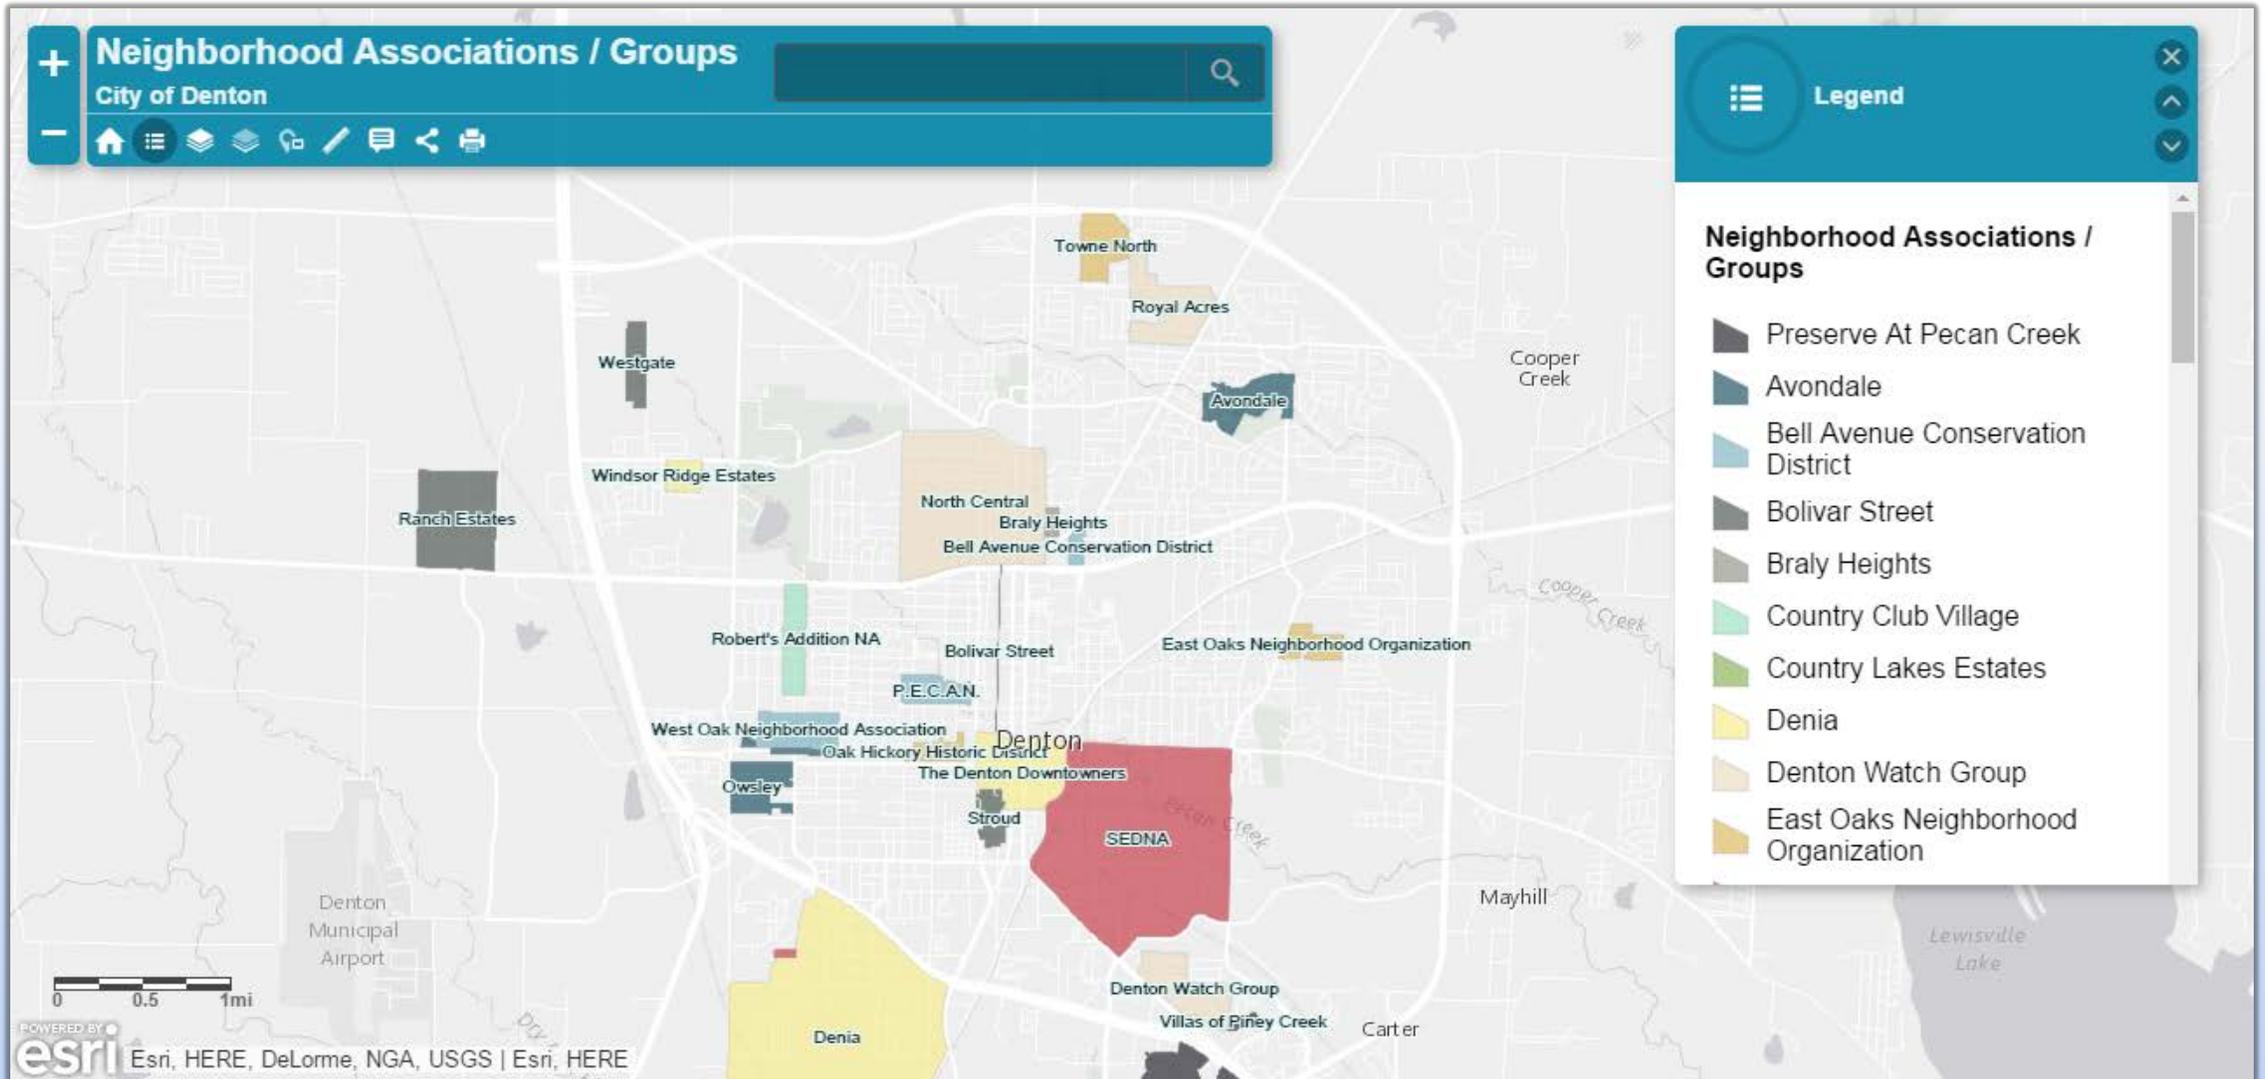

Zoning and Overlays

Purpose and Objective

- Portrays the entire city's zoning and overlays classifications
- Contains parcel attribute information
- Used to find exact zoning of a parcel and the overlays that the parcel falls under
- Has query and filters for:
 - Property ID (example: R36607)
 - Zoning Category
 - Overlay Type

Neighborhood Associations / Groups

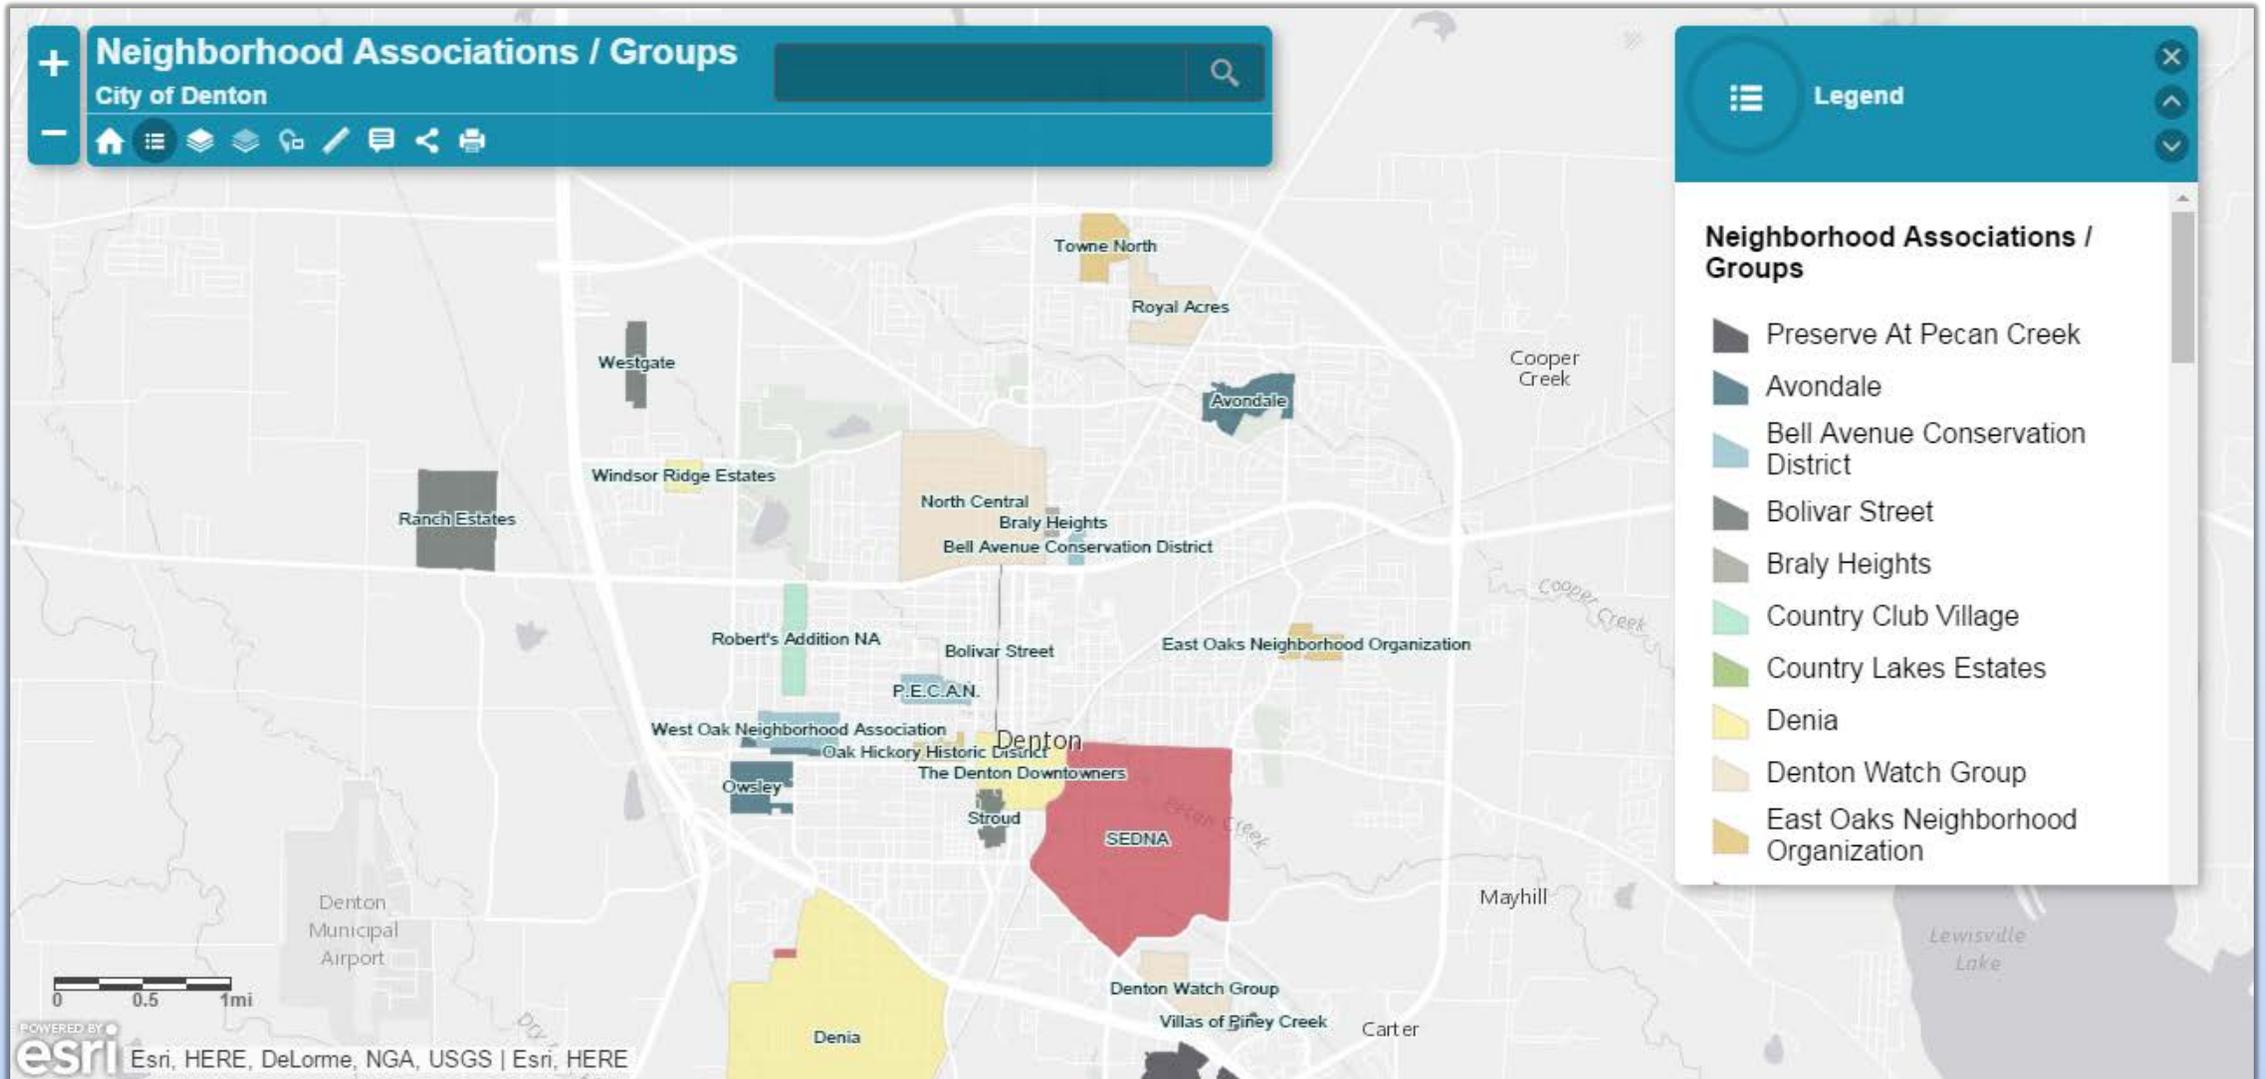

Neighborhood Associations / Groups

Purpose and Objective

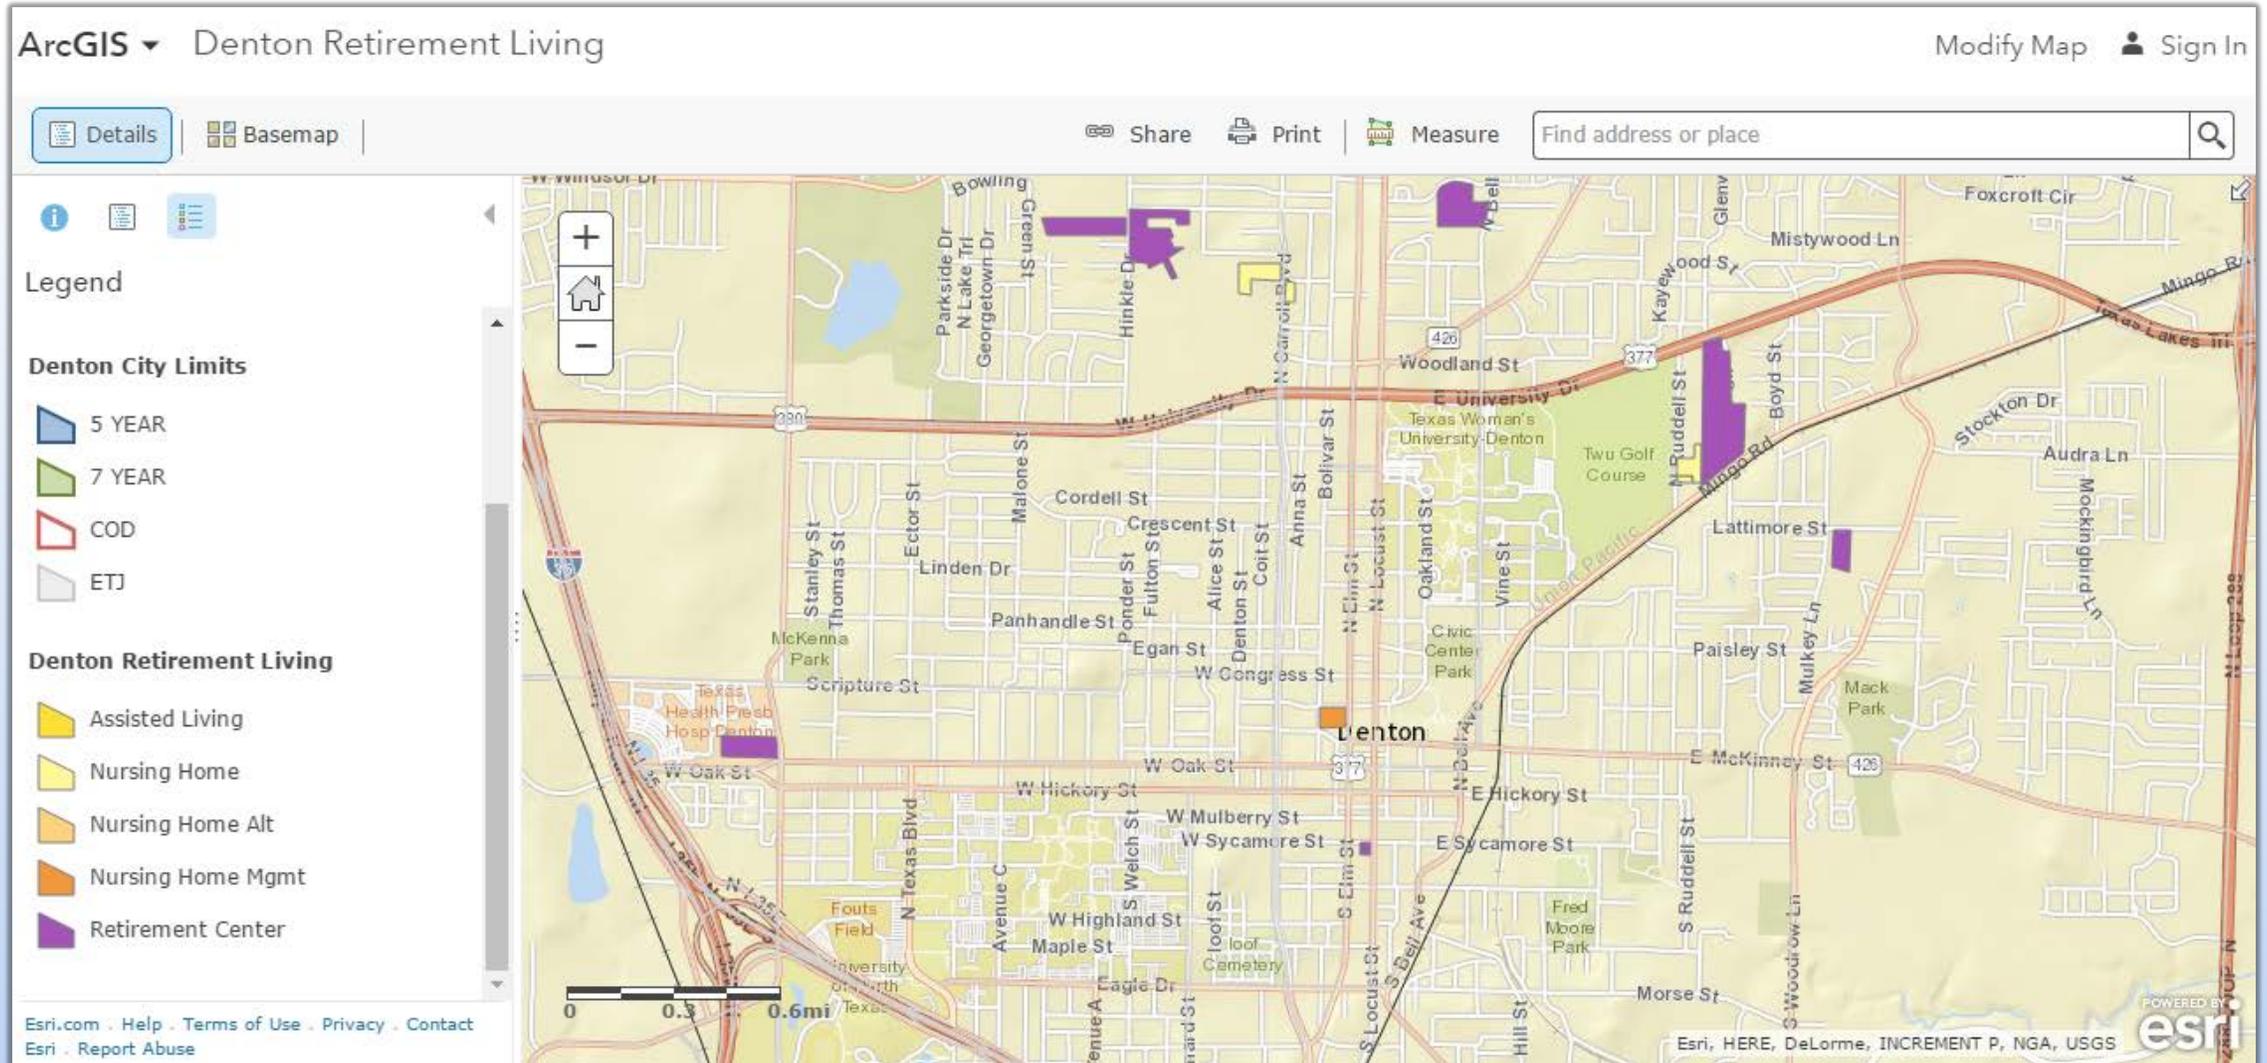

- Meets the need of a simple interactive map portraying the neighborhood boundaries throughout the city
- Updated with input from the community during the 2016 Neighborhood Empowerment Summit
- The map represents both associations and groups
- Associations are formal, in that they are like HOA's
- Groups are more informal, and they consist of individuals who commonly get together to discuss their neighborhood

City of Denton Planning Website

The screenshot displays the City of Denton Planning Website. At the top left is the City of Denton logo. A navigation bar contains links for 'About the City', 'Government', 'Departments & Services', 'Residents', 'Visitors', 'Businesses', and 'How Do I...'. The 'Departments & Services' link is active. Below the navigation bar is a breadcrumb trail: 'Departments & Services » Departments G - P » Planning » GIS Maps'. The main heading is 'Interactive Maps'. Below this heading are utility links: 'Print', 'Feedback', 'Share & Bookmark', and 'Font Size: + -'. A paragraph of text explains that the City of Denton offers interactive mapping tools, including a 'Zoning Map' for public access to GIS data. Below the text are five map thumbnails, each with a title: 'Main Interactive Map', 'Denton Neighborhood Association Boundaries', 'Denton Retirement Community Living', 'Denton Restaurant Searcher', and 'Denton Zonings and Overlays'. On the left side, a vertical menu lists 'Planning' with sub-items: 'Long Range Planning', 'Development Review', 'Active Projects', 'Boards & Commissions', 'Public Hearing Notices', 'GIS Maps', and 'Interactive Maps'. Under 'Interactive Maps' are 'Downloadable Maps', 'Zoning Info', and 'Contact Us'. The background features a blue gradient with a classical column and a wind turbine.
